Dr. Conwell Here Next Week.

Dr. Russell H. Conwell, the world's greatest lecturer and a great favorite in Barton, having appeared here as many as eight times in the early days of a lyceum course in Barton, will deliver one of his famous lectures in Seaver's hall Thursday evening, Nov. 20, as the second number in the improvement club lyceum course. He will probably deliver the world's most famous lecture, "Acres of Diamonds." When this lecture was delivered the 5,000th time in the Academy of Music in Philadelphia with 5,000 people present, in May, 1914, he was presented with an album containing 5,000 signatures and a purse of $5,000 while the door receipts were upward of $5,000.

Every dollar Dr. Conwell makes lecturing he gives to poor students, and his earnings in this way, if invested, would net over $4,000,000 today.

"Acres of Diamonds," is published in book form and many thousands of copies sold. It has been translated into French, German, Roumanian, Italian, Bulgarian, Swedish and Chinese.

Dr. Conwell is the pastor of Temple church, Philadelphia with 3,000 members, the president of Temple college with 4,000 students, and the most popular lecturer and preacher in the United States. He has a world-wide reputation.

Anyone desiring seats will do well to secure them at Pierce's drug store early, as the hall is sure to be crowded.

GRAHAM CASE UP

Pleads Restitution and Says He Had No Intent to Do Wrong.

The case of State vs. Horace F. Graham has been set for trial in Washington county court, Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 11. Hale K. Darling, one of the defending attorneys in the case, has filed a plea which he called a "plea in bar," something unknown in the history of Washington county court, it is said, in a criminal case.

Attorney General Archibald declares that although the plea was most unusual he should treat it as a plea of not guilty and go ahead on that presumption.

The "plea in bar" is a statement appearing over the name of Horace F. Graham in which the respondent declares the "state ought not further to prosecute the said indictment against him" for reasons set forth in the 2,000-word plea and declaring that the "matters and things named in the plea fully answer and account for each and every sum of money in said indictment charged and alleged either to have been stolen, taken or carried away by said respondent, or embezzled by him."

St. Onge Buys Bakery.

Alfred St. Onge, who recently purchased the King block on Post-office square, has purchased the bakery fixtures and good will of the A. L. Wilcox company, occupying a rent in the block, and takes possession in a few days.

Mr. St. Onge will continue the bakery business and will probably add certain other lines. Adelbert Smith will remain with him as baker, while Mr. Wilcox will go to Newport on December 1st, to take charge of the Hamlet bakery in that city.

Everyone will be glad to know that Barton is to have its bakery continued and Mr. St. Onge has had business experience which assures the proper conduct of the place.

A series of birthdays took place last week, culminating in a dinner at Mrs. P. L. Webster's. Mrs. Emma Drown's birthday was Nov. 3d, Mrs. M. H. Brunning's, Nov. 4th and Mrs. Emma Sylvester's Nov. 5th, when the dinner was given.

Complete returns of the Red Cross roll call have not been compiled and any who were missed in the solicitation would confer a favor on the local branch by giving their dollar to any member of the committee. Barton has not yet reached its quota.

Barton's electric plant suffered somewhat from the heavy snow and blow of last week but the current was shut off only about three or four hours. Telephone lines also suffered much damage, but the snow has largely disappeared and the few days' sleighing is a thing of the past. The weather is quite warm again but the sun fails to show itself only upon rare occasions.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held Nov. 11th with Mrs. C. F. Cutler, ten members and four visitors present. The meeting opened with Scripture reading by Mrs. Cutler and prayer was offered by Mrs. M. L. Pearson. Roll call was answered by each member reading a clipping on Sunday observance. An interesting program followed. Reading, "The Supreme Court and Sunday Rest," Mrs. H. R. Cutler; reading, "Shall We Keep Our Sabbath," Mrs. Geo. Gorham; reading, "Are Christians Responsible for Sabbath Desecration?" Mrs. E. W. Barron. The meeting was closed with the benediction. Light refreshments were served by the hosts.

The Woman's Literary club will meet tonight, Nov. 12, with Miss Eva Baxter, Subject, "The Peace Jubilee." The Afternoon Study club met with Mrs. Batchelder Thursday. Twelve members answered roll call and two visitors were present. After the business meeting the following program was carried out. Subject, "Employments for Women." "Fighting Doctor," article read by Mrs. McLellan; paper, "The American Girl in Sculpture," Mrs. Proctor. Mrs. Mabel Thompson gave a very interesting talk on "Women in Business." A parable by Safed, the Sage, from the Congregationalist, was read by Mrs. Emily Webster. Miss Marie Brown gave two piano selections, "Second Valse" by Benj. Godard and "Told at Twilight" Chas. Hueter. The ladies then signed the Thrift agreements furnished by Mrs. Hutchins, and a social hour followed.

GLOVER

Mrs. H. S. Clark was in Lyndonville on business Friday.

Mr. Dion has moved from the Malouin town to Connecticut.

C. W. Dexter is home from Connecticut where he has been all summer.

Mrs. H. S. Clark remained at the hospital with her daughter over Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McFarlane of Greensboro visited his sister, Mrs. Jennie Shedd, recently.

News has been received that Mrs. Hugh Carr of Manchester, N. H., has suffered a partial shock.

Mrs. Edwin Alexander was severely ill several days last week with lung trouble but is now much improved.

Mr. Cass of West Glover has purchased the farm known as the Martin Bean place of Fred Malouin, and has taken possession.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Niles and son, who have been living at his father's in Albany since last June, have returned to their farm here.

Marsh Company Entertain.

The Marsh company appeared in Seaver's hall Friday evening in the role of bell ringers, character portrayals and general entertainers. They came to Barton under the auspices of the Epworth League of the M. E. church and were welcomed by a full house.

While the bell ringing proper could not be classed with that Barton audiences had heard before, Mr. and Mrs. Marsh proved to be real entertainers with the variety of musical bells and chimes they carried and Mr. Marsh in his character sketches proved extremely good. In his ventriloquism act he far exceeded most ventriloquists.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsh are charming people, who would draw a good house in Barton again and those who brought them to Barton are to be congratulated.

Trying to Change Sentence of Kelsey.

Walter H. Kelsey, of Newport, attorney for Bert Kelsey, was in Montpelier last week and had an audience with Gov. P. W. Clement in which he made application to Gov. Clement, asking that Kelsey's penalty be commuted to life imprisonment on the grounds that Kelsey's mental capacity is not that of a normal man. Probably a decision will be reached in a few days.

Kelsey is under sentence to be executed at the state prison the first week in December for killing James Allen in Orleans about a year ago.

Labounty Sentenced to House of Correction.

Edward Labounty pled guilty to a charge of burglary and was sentenced to not less than one year nor more than four years in the House of Correction by Judge W. M. Wright in a recent session of the municipal court.

Labounty hired a team Saturday, Nov. 1, to go to Glover. He drove to the slaughter house of F. W. Johnson on the Glover road, broke into the house and stole two beef hides, which he sold to C. E. Jenkins of Orleans.

Labounty is said to have been guilty of burglary before but had never been arrested. About three years ago he broke into H. T. Seaver's store and stole two shotguns but returned them later and is said to have made other breaks heretofore.

Mrs. Harold Shedd, who was operated upon for appendicitis at Cottage hospital, Barton, a week ago Sunday evening, is expecting to return home Sunday.

Wilfred Morancy had some young heifers out at the time of the storm last week. One of them has been found, but two last spring's calves he has been unable to find as yet.

N. H. Drew goes to Walden this week to take possession of his recently purchased store there. We are sorry to have Mr. Drew and family leave town.

C. P. Bean and Mrs. Willard Leonard went to Concord Junction, Mass., last week to visit Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Whitney and to be present at the birthday anniversary of their son, Hayden Whitney.

Miss Isabelle Clark was operated on for appendicitis by Dr. Allen of St. Johnsbury at the Cottage hospital Saturday. She stood the operation well and is doing fine. Patients from this town speak very highly of the attention given them at Cottage hospital and in particular of its home-like management.

GLOVER COMMUNITY CHURCH

Pastor, Rev. John Kimball.

Morning worship, 11 a. m.

Sunday school, 12 m.

Christian Endeavor, 7 p. m.

The women of the church who are interested in missions are requested to meet at the home of Mrs. George Anderson Friday afternoon at 2.30.

The first number in the Community Lecture course will be an illustrated travelogue, "The Heart of the Sierras," by W. H. Sparhawk Monday evening in Institute hall. This lecture course will be low in price so that all the community can afford to enjoy it. Each entertainment will be followed by a social hour. Come on Monday evening, see the beautiful pictures and enjoy the social hour.

It is expected that Mr. Sparhawk will occupy the pulpit of the Community church Sunday morning. He said in his letter to the pastor: "I should like to preach once in a country church." Come Sunday and show Mr. Sparhawk what community folks look like.

The Men's class of the Sunday school will serve a supper Friday evening, November 21. The ladies of Glover are invited to come and see what a real supper is like. It will be ready some time between 6 p. m. and bedtime.

IRASBURG

B. Jarry has sold his farm to Oscar St. Marie of Waterbury, Conn.

Vivian Martin in "Unclaimed Goods" Saturday at the town hall.

Herbert Wheeler began work in D. A. Brahana's store Monday.

Don Carpenter has sold his farm to F. H. Metcalf.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Labounty Nov. 4th.

Mrs. Arthur Kelley of Newport visited Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Healey over Sunday.

John Austin has returned to his work in the blacksmith shop in South Troy.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Culling Demonstration at Newport Postponed.

The poultry culling demonstration which was to have been held in Newport the past week has been postponed until Saturday, Nov. 15th, at 2 p. m., at the farm of John Brigham, Alstead Farms. Everyone interested in poultry is invited to attend.

Community Committee Meetings.

During the past week community committees met at Barton and Morgan to map out a community program for this year. Morgan will work on the following projects—Lime and Clover, Dairy Improvement, Milk Cost Accounts, and if a local leader can be found a boys' and girls' club will be organized. Barton outlined the following projects—Lime and Clover, Dairy Improvement, Milk Cost Accounts and Cooperative Marketing of Wool.

During this week, committee meetings will be held in a large number of the other communities of the county. Before winter sets in, it is hoped that a majority of the communities in this county will have their programs well under way and that during the winter the remainder of the communities will decide upon some program.

Two County Men Lose Licenses.

C. H. McCauley of Newport and Leon D. Turnbull of Orleans are among the men who lost their automobile operators' licenses last week through action of Secretary of State Black.

Glee Wells is ill with measles.

Mrs. Mary Katz' children are ill with the measles.

George Goodheart of Barton is in town, shingling and making other repairs on the gristmill.

H. C. Roberts and friend of St. Johnsbury visited his aunt, Mrs. F. A. Field, over Sunday.

Frank Towne returned last week from his hunting trip in Maine having secured a fine deer.

Mrs. Eva and Nellie Mitchell entertained their sisters, Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Shetler, and families of St. Albans over Sunday.

Herbert Bover is taking a few days' vacation from his work in the creamery and is visiting relatives in Randolph and Derry, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Wentworth have returned from Richmond and he will work for the Parker-Young Co. this winter. They are boarding with Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Collins.

A flock of "geese" were seen going in a northeasterly direction Friday evening and lighted at the home of Mrs. Addie Cook, where a very pleasant evening was spent. Games were played and dainty refreshments were served.

A reception was tendered Gerald Arnis and bride in the town hall on Thursday evening, which was well attended. A musical program was rendered and a pleasant social time was enjoyed. Punch and wafers were served, and the best wishes of all were extended to Mr. and Mrs. Annis.

W. W. Reiden of Barton was in town Tuesday and has purchased a Monarch Grain Grinder which is to be installed in the grist mill. Mr. Reiden of Lebanon, N. H., was here to take measurements for the new machinery. Mr. Reiden is making other changes and repairs and expects to open the mill for business soon.

The drawing of seats for the lecture course will take place in the town hall on the evening of Nov. 21st. The first entertainment of the course will be given Nov. 26th. The talent secured is of an exceptionally high order and to pay for it the help of all will be needed. So please be prepared to sign up for as many tickets as you can use.

The third Red Cross roll call campaign has been a successful one here despite the stormy weather and the condition of the roads. The number of members secured exceeds that of last year. Much credit is due the solicitors for their interest in the campaign, namely, Mrs. J. S. Carpenter, Mrs. J. S. Willey, Misses Susie Miller, Nettie Fletcher, Hazel Heath, Mollie Blake and Rev. S. G. Sutor.

Floyd Messier and Harry Sanville's baby are ill with measles.

Mrs. Taylor, widow of the late Buzzell Taylor, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lewis Besaw, Sunday, after many weeks of intense suffering from cancer of the stomach, aged 80 years.

The funeral services were held in the Catholic church Tuesday forenoon and were largely attended. The burial was in the Catholic cemetery in Lowell beside her husband.

Mrs. Taylor and husband came from Canada to Lowell about 55 years ago. Since the death of her husband she has lived with her children and has been most kindly cared for by her daughter during her last illness. She leaves besides her daughter, six sons, Buzzell and Joseph of South Newbury, Ovid of Dover, N. H., Henry of Boston, Ezra of Orleans and John of Albany, all of whom were present at the funeral.

The Congregational Every-Member Drive.

The Every-Member drive last year was such a success that Congregational National Headquarters has designated a like early date this year. Dec. 7th, for a simultaneous canvass in all the Congregational churches. Occasionally a church objects to making the canvass on Sunday and therefore makes its canvass on a week day. The two great advantages in favor of the early December date are the impulse which the canvass gives to finish out strong the closing year, and the satisfaction of coming to the annual meeting with all provision made for the ensuing year. A great majority of the Congregational churches in Orleans county made the canvass last year, and the impulse which made it then has thus far signified its intention of giving up the method. The goal this year is to secure the participation of every Congregational church in Orleans association, and from the experience of past years a more effective participation is anticipated. Rev. R. A. Hamilton of Orleans is in charge of the drive in Orleans county.

Winter Agricultural Course at U. V. M.

A bulletin has just been issued announcing the winter short courses in agriculture and dairying which will be offered tuition free in the college of agriculture, University of Vermont. Longer and more complete courses are to be given the following four courses are scheduled as follows:

Course I. Testing Dairy Products. Nov. 10-22; to prepare men to operate cow test associations, and supervise advanced registry work and men or women to test milk, cream, butter in milk plants and creameries.

Course II. Buttermaking and Creamery management. Nov. 25-Dec. 5; Designed primarily for men who have had some creamery experience. Various problems important to the butter maker and creamery manager will receive consideration.

Course III. Cheesemaking. Dec. 8-20; A course in the principles and practice of
